GOOD NEWS FROM THE

FRENCH FRONT.

GERMANS IN RETREAT

BETWEEN SOMME AND OISE.

IMMINENT WITHDRAWAL

ON THE VESLE.

GERMAN WITHDRAWALS AT SEVERAL POINTS.

Still further progress in the note of Sir Douglas Haig's despatches received yesterday and last night. North of Moislains we have forced the passage of the Tortille River and the Canal du Nord on a wide front.

The passage was strongly resisted by the enemy, who was ultimately overcome, and our troops advanced with dash and courage, capturing Manancourt and Etricourt.

English and New Zealand troops took Ruyscourt, and reached the outskirts of Havincourt Wood. English troops entered Moeuvres, where fighting was proceeding among the old Hindenburg Line defences.

From the French front the news comes that the enemy is falling back between the Oise and the Somme. The French troops are approaching Guise, the Ham-Noyon road. The Bois du happire. The correspondent who sends this report from the French headquarters states that there are signs that the enemy is preparing for a general withdrawal from the Vesle sector.

ANYTIME this side of Christmas, but the sooner the better, women will do well to buy their buckles shoes for next spring's wear.

For, so uncertain is the supply, not only of leather but also of buckles, that Lotus Ltd are obliged to decline advance orders sent by shops for execution next year.

But, for a few months longer, the shops appointed to sell Lotus and Delta will certainly be able to supply buckle shoes out of their next deliveries from Lotus Ltd, if not straightaway from stock on their shelves.

In every town there is at least one, in many towns there are two or more, of these shops.
